

Corporate E-learning

Custom Courseware

If a course does not focus on the needs of its learners, they will never be able to put in practice what they learn. The key to improve your business performance is an online instructional program designed around both your company's objectives and the desired training outcomes.

OUR TURNKEY SOLUTIONS WILL FURNISH YOUR TRAINING PROGRAM WITH:

An innovative approach, centered on the learner's experience that combines industry best practices with the most creative solutions.

100 % SCORM courses -portable and interoperable between LMS platforms- a capability which will save you from incurring extra costs in the event of future changes.

Improved knowledge acquisition and retention through the intensive use of multimedia and interactive materials.

Best practices and international accessibility standards applied to all our content.

Activica Advantages

Experience, expertise, commitment and a unique cost-benefit relationship are some of the competitive advantages we offer our clients.

Quality Control

Our developed solutions are subjected to a variety of quality control checks and functional validations in order to ensure the client's approval throughout the process. We use online control and reporting tools that enable our clients to trace the status of their project at all times.

Added Value

We do our very best to find the right answers to our clients' requests and also to have a permanent proactive attitude in the generation of proposals to reach the best possible educational, artistic and technological solutions.

Confidentiality

We ensure confidentiality of content and all documentation used in the client's project. Additionally, in order to guarantee the integrity of the information provided, we appoint a single point of contact to keep you informed throughout the whole process.

Documentation and Source Code

At the end of each project, we provide documentation (if applicable) and source code used throughout the development process. In this way our clients gain complete independence from us for future contracts.

Communication

If your company is based in the United States, Spain, Canada or Great Britain, we will arrange an exclusive telephone number for your company by means of which you will only pay for the local part of an international long distance phone call to our headquarters in Buenos Aires.
